Liquid concentrate for skin and hair

Bacteria and germs can damage the natural balance in the skin. General irritations such as mud fever, itchiness and flakiness can occur. EMH Skin- and Coat Conditioner Spray supports the protective function of the skin and coat, and encourages regeneration due to use of microorganisms. Small wounds also heal more quickly.

Recommended feeding:

By daily application a long-lasting protective shield is built up. The skin becomes more resistant to external influences, and the coat becomes sleek and glossy.
